- The student must return all textbooks provided to the ECP classroom during the week of final exams and by the last day of the semester. Students who do not return books during the week of final exams will be assigned an obligation and will not be eligible to continue with dual enrollment until all obligations are satisfied.
- When a student drops a class during the first five days of the semester, the student must return all books to the location where the books were received, which is the ECP classroom and/or the SPC Bookstore. Failure to do so will result in an obligation as outlined in the bullet above.

Students who earn a "W" in any given semester will not be permitted to enroll in a dual enrollment course at SPC for a full academic year.

We understand that information about the student's academic progress, behavior and overall performance as a dual credit student will be available from SPC to both students and parents/legal guardian(s). NOTE: SPC will only release information to the parent if the student has signed a Consent to Release Information Form. By signing below, I/we, the parent(s) (or eligible student if 18), consent to PCS's release of the student's education records to the College during the period of dual enrollment.
